ALGER'S MISMANAGEMENT.

The war being over, the people are making inquiries regarding its management. The War Department has made so many mistakes that Secretary Alger finds himself the subject of much adverse criticism. The Providence (Rhode Island) Journal, an Administration paper, and one of the most conservative and influential in New England, has this to say of the Secretary:

"Unless Secretary Alger scrupulously avoids the newspapers, or unless he is entirely devoid of sensitiveness to criticism, he must be in a decidedly unenviable frame of mind these days. From every quarter comes ridicule, sarcasm or invective directed against his management of the War Department. No matter what share of the blame may be justly imputed to his subordinates, it is recognized that the burden of the responsibility rests upon his shoulders, and that to his desire to play politics the present disgraceful condition of affairs is mainly due. Nor can the President himself be wholly absolved from censure. It was known when Mr. Alger was appointed that he was unfit for the place and it was said that Mr. McKinley had hesitated a long while before he made the appointment. Probably if there had been no war the worse effects of his mismanagement would not have been felt. But the strain of military activity has revealed all the weaknesses of a bad system in bad hands. Naturally little was told, and many excuses were made, at the beginning. Now that the conflict with Spain is over, the inclination to speak out plainly is less rigidly repressed."

Much of the War Department's blundering incompetence was due to the appointment of inexperienced and unfit men to important positions. Alger was playing a game of politics not of war, and the lives of the brave boys who died of neglect at Santiago were sacrificed upon the altar of Mr. Alger's ambition.

OHIO SILVER AND GOLD DEMOCRATS.

The Ohio Democratic State Convention meets at Dayton to-day. The gold Democrats are mustering their forces for the purpose of throwing the free coinage plank of the Chicago platform overboard. They are represented by ex-Congressman Dowling and others, but their seats are contested and they will probably be ruled out of the convention. The Bryan Democrats are marshaled by John R. McLean, who managed the campaign for the free coinage men in the last election. They are in the majority and will control the convention. They favor Bryan for President in 1900, and will control the committee, which will call the convention in that year.

The financial question is recognized as the paramount issue of the day throughout the country, but in some States the gold Democrats attempt to ignore it as the Republicans do in others. The Nevada plan to support no man for office who is not pledged by platform and declaration to favor the free coinage of gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 is the correct one for all bimetallists to adopt. There are gold Democrats and silver Republicans, but every Silver Party man is for free coinage.

TROUBLE IN THE GOLD CAMP.

There are dissensions in the Republican camp. The Stalwarts insist that it is nonsensical for Nevada Republicans to pretend to be in favor of the restoration of silver, as by so doing they deceive only themselves. They must obey Mr. Hanna if they expect recognition at Washington or a share of the campaign fund. The Non-descripts, who have now given up all hope of getting a place at the Federal platform, favor the deceptive plan for another campaign and will insist on a plank favoring the coinage of American silver unless Mr. Hanna sends "convincing arguments" that they should come out squarely for gold or ignore the financial question altogether, before the convention meets.

As the same statesmen who declared for free coinage two years ago, still control the party, it will be interesting to watch their antics this year and see what they can do as ground and lofty tumblers.

Serious trouble is apprehended at Pans, Illinois. The coal miners are out on a strike and the mine owners are said to be importing 1,000 negroes from Alabama to take the place of the strikers. The latter are being reinforced by white miners from adjacent districts, and a conflict is almost inevitable if the colored miners are set at work. The citizens sympathize with the strikers and suggest that indignation meetings be held.

The Populist Convention, which met at Sacramento yesterday for the purpose of nominating candidates under the fusion agreement, adopted a resolution against proxies, according to which no delegate who was not personally elected will be recognized in the convention.

The statement that John R. McLean of Ohio was to have succeeded Secretary Alger is positively denied.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

The authorities at Havana declined to allow the landing of a number of American correspondents who arrived there yesterday. The English residents strenuously objected to the Government's action and the British Consul accompanied by Captain Stewart Brice called upon General Blanco and urged him to allow the newspaper men to land, but he firmly declined on the grounds that their presence in Havana prior to the arrival of the Peace Commissioners might create prejudice while discussing the details of peace.

No arrests have as yet been made at San Francisco in the Dunning poisoning case by Chief of Police Lees. It is evident, however, that the police are ready to act at a moment's notice.

The Cuban Commission will sail for Havana on the 5th inst. according to present calculations, on the New York Rear Admiral Sampson's flagship.

Spain is endeavoring to arrange to rehabilitate her navy. The few vessels she has left will be repaired and cleaned up.

It is expected an order will be issued to-day mustering out 100,000 volunteers. The list of troops to be mustered out is about complete.

Jamaica is preparing a plebiscite to the British Parliament requesting permission to endeavor to arrange for annexation to the United States.

Admiral Dewey and General Merritt yesterday cabled President McKinley their thanks for his congratulations.

Minister Sewall at Honolulu has forwarded to Secretary of State Day at Washington, that the raising of the American flag over Hawaii and the ceremonies of transfer produced an excellent impression.

Admiral Schley is confined to the house by an attack of nervous exhaustion. He is at the home of his son-in-law, W. S. Wortley at Westport, Connecticut. His physician has given strict orders for his patient's strict seclusion.

The Navy Department opened bids yesterday for the construction of sixteen torpedo boat destroyers and twelve torpedo boats, the cost to not exceed $16,900,000. According to the requirements the destroyers are to have a speed of twenty-eight knots and the torpedo boats twenty-six.

It is understood that President McKinley will be ready to announce the personnel of the Peace Commission before the close of the present week.

The Supreme Lodge Knights of Pythias met in biennial session at Indianapolis yesterday. The Mayor and Governor James A. Mount welcomed the Supreme Lodge, and Supreme Chancellor Colgrove replied. At 11 o'clock the Supreme Lodge settled down to business. It was found that a poor financial condition existed, causing much severe criticism on the management of the officers. An investigating committee was appointed and a proposition to change the method of revenue will be considered. The election of supreme officers will take place Thursday.

ARMIES OF EUROPE.
Peace and War Footing of the Great Nations.
Russia possesses the largest standing army on earth and each year it grows in size. Every year some 280,000 conscripts join the Russian forces, which in time of peace number 1,000,000 men. On a war footing this rises to 2,500,000 and call out the reserve would increase it to 6,947,000 well-trained soldiers. Should necessity arise the militia would be called out, bringing the czar's forces up to 9,000,000 men.

France comes next, with a standing army of 589,000 men rising to 2,500,000 in time of war, while the calling of the reserves would bring it to 4,370,000. Despite this the regular army is increasing yearly.

The German army numbers 585,000 in times of peace. War would bring it 2,230,000 and the reserves added make the numbers of men 4,300,000.

The peace army of Austria-Hungary numbers 385,000; in war it would be 2,500,000 and with the reserves 4,000,000.

Forces are being reduced in Italy because the people are too poor to pay the necessary taxes. The standing army, therefore, is but 174,000, war bringing it up to 1,478,000, reserves making the force 2,200,000.

Great Britain has a standing army of 220,000, but calling out the reserve forces puts 720,000 men under command.

Every ninth person in France is a trained soldier; in Germany there is a soldier to every twelve persons and every six males. Russia has such a population that in spite of her big army only one man out of fourteen is a fighter. Every five families in France contribute three soldiers. Every other Austrian household has one member in the army and the same state exists in Germany. Every third Italian family has some one in the army.

The Coming Fair.
The State Agricultural Board are laboring diligently and industriously to make the State Fair this year one of exceptional interest and benefit to the State as an advertising medium as well as an occasion of sport and general amusement. Much work has already been completed in the way of improvement and preparation for the Fall meeting. The Board have had no State appropriation to use, but have been compelled to arrange individually for such funds as were necessary to go on with the preliminary work. In order to make the meeting a successful one and advantageous to the town and State generally, a committee of directors will call upon the people in a day or two and solicit subscriptions to assist in paying the immediate obligations for material and labor contracted for.

No one should hesitate in giving as liberally as they can afford, for it is simply an investment that will be returned ten fold in the way of business that will surely be realized during Fair week either directly or indirectly, through the visitors the Fair brings to Reno and the increased trade in all lines that must necessarily occur.

A Fine Musical Instrument.
Mr. Hodges, the piano man, has a magnificent Clark organ which has the usual finger board and three sets of reeds, also a roll attachment by which anyone can play the instrument even though they have no musical knowledge. Operative, as well as the latest popular music of the day is played with wonderful accuracy and expression and with almost the power of a full orchestra.

Mr. Hodges takes great pleasure in showing the instrument and expects to display it at the coming fair, together with a large number of pianos for which he is the agent.

His piano ware-rooms are located in the Clarendon Hotel building first floor.

Fire at Camp Clark.

EDITORIAL PILATES.
A Liberal Offer From an Elko Paper.

The Elko Argonaut, noticing the freedom with which some Nevada editors purloin the ideas of others, never giving the slightest credit, makes the following liberal offer:

Every editor whose mental apparatus consists of half pickled brain ganglia floating in a pint of cheap whiskey or mixed drinks is welcome to steal bodily from our columns any matter that may take his fancy as he has done heretofore. We are fully acquainted with this class of editors. Entering upon their daily duties with a half maudlin exclamation of, "the pen is mightier than the sword," they seize a paper and tailor's shears and proceed to mercilessly massacre their exchanges with as little feeling as a barbarous Turk has while disemboweling an American baby, never crediting to the originator a single idea. These editors are as familiar with the use of a pen as they are with a sword, and use it quite as awkwardly. Their only original articles are, "Pay up your prescriptions," "Patronize your home paper," etc. and yet they invariably pose as the brain workers of the age. Any assistance we can give them will be right joyfully extended, for with a pretty definite idea of their future state, we would with true christian spirit brighten with wit their temporal abode.

It absolutely cures Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all affection of the Throat, Chest and Lungs. Call at above drug store and get a trial bottle free or a regular size for 50 cent and $1.00. Guaranteed to cure or price refunded.

Nevada Heard from in the Supreme Lodge Knights of Pythias.

N. A. Hummel, who represents Nevada in the Supreme Lodge Knights of Pythias now in session at Indianapolis, arose yesterday immediately after the preliminaries of opening the session were concluded and in the name of the Silver State, presented Supreme Chancellor Colgrove a magnificent gavel made of Nevada mahogany, mounted with Nevada silver and turned by Knight John Montiz of Verdi, mounted and engraved by Knight Richard Herz of Reno. In fact it was a Nevada product in every sense. Supreme Representative Hummel paid a glowing tribute to the Silver State and her industries and, as his eloquent words fell on the ears of the representatives from every state in the Union composing the body, they learned of Nevada resources of which they had never heard before, and were deeply impressed.

Supreme Chancellor Colgrove accepted the gavel and in the course of his remarks told of the welcome given him by Nevada Knights during his visit to the State of a year ago and of the open handed hospitality accorded him. As the Supreme Chancellor concluded, a murmur of satisfaction swept through the big hall and the Silver State gained several points in the list of States and in the estimation of Pythian circles.

Naval Impudence.
Fifty years ago the allowance of paint in the British navy was very small, and sometimes the officers had to pay large sums in order that their ships might maintain a decent appearance. One of them resorted to a humorous expedient, either to soften the heart of the navy board, or if that proved impossible, to express his opinion.

Sir John Phillimore painted one side of his old yellow frigate black and white and used the rest of the black paint in printing on the other side in large letters, "No more paint."

The navy board wrote to call his attention to the impropriety of his conduct and signed themselves, as they did officially, "Your affectionate friends."

To this Sir John replied that he could not obliterate the objectionable letters unless he was given more paint and signed himself in turn, "Your affectionate friend, John Phillimore."

The navy board then called his attention to the impropriety of the signature, to which Sir John replied, acknowledging the letter, stating that he regretted that the paint had not been sent and ending: "I am no longer your affectionate friend, John Phillimore."

His frigate was allowed to retain her original yellow, and perhaps the navy board did right thus to punish Sir John's impudence. —Youth's Companion

Beneficial Effects of Coffee.
A woman writer who gave up coffee recently found that she was unable to continue her writing with any success until she had resorted again to the stimulating beverage. Without it her mind was logy and heavy. The Medical Times quotes an authority on the subject of prescribing coffee as a medicine in certain states of great debility and adds:

"Tea and coffee seem to be much alike in many respects, but the latter is greatly preferable as to its sustaining power. It would be a great advantage to our working classes and a great help toward the further development of social sobriety if coffee were to come into greatly increased use and if the ability to make it well could be acquired. As an example of the difference of effect of tea and coffee upon the nervous system, the writer notes what he believes many sportsmen will confirm—that it is far better to drink coffee than tea when shooting. Tea, if strong or in any quantity, especially if the individual be not in very robust health, will induce a sort of nervousness which is very prejudicial to steady shooting. Under its influence one is apt to shoot too quickly, whereas coffee steadies the hand and gives quiet nerves."

Thought Him One of the Queer Ones.
Mr. Quiller-Couch tells this story in the Pall Mall Magazine: "Hicks, governor of the Cornwall County Lunatic asylum, had a great many friends—extramural friends, I mean—and among them an accomplished landscape painter. This artist, captivated by the beauty of the little seaport town of East Looe, took lodgings there, chose his 'subject' and started to make some drawings of it on the rocks at low tide.

"A few days later Hicks drove over to see him, and arrived at West Looe to be taken across the harbor in a boat. To his surprise, he found a boatman waiting for him. Still more to his surprise, the boatman hailed him thus:

"'Aw, Mr. Hicks, I've a-been looking out for 'ee the last day or two. I knowed you'd come. He's over here now. He's been boistering and screeching. He sits at low water down among the weed, a-painting at a bit of board, and he calls out, 'Come into the garden, Mand.' A pretty garden he's a-got there! 'I'm here by the gate alone.' Not a gate within a mile of 'un! You can take 'un; he's quiet.'"

Fifty years ago Austria had seven cities with more than 20,000 inhabitants. Today there are 28.
